I don't support this ordinance. I've seen no evidence that deliberate wildlife feeding is significant or has any effect on wildlife in our town. Deer and bears will still come to town because of irrigated gardens and fruit trees;. We should require evidence before passing a ban.

That said, I commend staff for doing a good job rewriting the ordinance so that it no longer prohibits bird feeding and concentrates on a person's intent to feed wildlife. If we have to have a ban, this one isn't bad.

I do not support this ordinance. It is just another over reach by the county with the state expecting our police department and animal control to do the states job. I think the ordinance will be very difficult to enforce. I spoke to a member of the police department and they said basically what I am saying.

I appreciate the effort that has been made to create an ordinance that permits us to continue feeding the birds. The deer will still graze on our lawns and fruit trees, but no one should intentionally be feeding them. I support the ordinance.

I oppose this proposed ordinance. The County is the worst violator. The golf course and other County parks feed deer, bunnies, and other small animals on a daily basis. Lets arrest and fine all the County employees involved in this covert operation. Declaring this a health, safety, and welfare issue is a joke. How about doing something proactive, like getting us bear-proof trash cans. I bet more kids were hurt by tricycles last year than wild bunnies.

I do not support adoption because the NMDGF regulation already provides the needed tool and this ordinance is overly broad and subject to interpretation and selective enforcement. Does growing plants count as feeding wildlife? What about squirrels eating bird food? I support continuing education, volunteers or paid staff to assist homeowners who wish to remove or address wildlife food sources but face obstacles, and increased speed limit enforcement and improved lighting at accident locations.

I support this ordinance for the health of wildlife. I am glad to see the revised language around feeding birds. The other major attractive nuisances for predators are trash (hoping bear carts will take care of this!) and unattended domestic animals. I would love to see some action to reduce these attractants in future. Thank you for your work making this a better ordinance for our wildlife and community!

I strongly support passage of this ordinance as revised for the health of our wildlife population and to not encourage attraction of predators into our neighborhoods. Thank you for exempting bird feeding.

Thank you Council for scheduling a discussion of this important matter. I think that an important step that the Council could take to focus on this priority would be for the County to make following questions part of every important project and decision:

1. How will we provide for meaningful public engagement?
2. How does this affect local business? Or how can this benefit local business? What local business could be involved with this project?

I support a fee for single use plastic bags. People who feel strongly that they must use such bags still can, but the rest of us shouldn't have to subsidize a habit that's wasteful, clogs recycling machines and causes litter. Santa Fe went this way years ago and the sky didn't fall.

I also support raising the minimum wage, and at least looking into the problem of vacant and abandoned properties, and seeing what can be done within NM law.

i do not support this ban. When the council is already thinking of ways to spend the money before the ordinance is even passed then this tells me that it is not about the environment but about the revenue. If you plan on putting a fee on single use plastic, why not garbage bags, meat counter bags and any plastics that cover produce or any other item.

I support a fee on SU bags in Los Alamos. Most of the plastic bags are not recycled but end up as litter and pollute our environment and us as we breath and consume nanoplastics. Trackers put in bags collected at grocery stores have shown that most end up either in landfills or are shipped overseas adding to global pollution. Adding a fee will give people an incentive to bring reusable bags. It's so easy and will help reduce green house gases causing climate change. Every small step helps.

I support an ordinance imposing a fee on single-use plastic bags. Those bags end up in trees and power lines and in our blue recycling bins. Smith's seems to have stopped collecting them recently.

Please, at the very least, impose a fee for the purchase and use of single-use plastic bags. If a ban is not acceptable, then a fee imposed upon those businesses who distribute them (a fee, I assume, that will be passed onto consumers) is in order. It is not onerous to ask shoppers to bring bags for their purchases. All over Europe, shoppers carry shopping bags used multiple times. Why can this country not at least follow good practices, since it cannot lead?

Charlie Trask

I oppose any sort of fees or control of control of plastic bags. This is insane micro managing of the citizens in the kingdom of Los Alamos. I've heard of a proposal to raise the minimum wage, so I guess the County wants to take it back by charging fees for shopping bags ? Let's get back to basics.

Plastic bags recycle readily & Smiths collects them. They help prevent shoplifting. Plastic bags take minimal energy to produce & transport. Council has rejected twice. Next a Kleenex ban? Limit exhale of CO2? Madness Council must concentrate on real issues: inoperable fire hydrants in Denver Steels neighborhood which is sloped and surrounded by unburned canyon fuel. Resting on "we've let a contract to rebuild the water system" is inadequate if a fire happens now. Fires don't wait for schedules Implementing a fee for (or ban on) single-use plastic bags is a simple yet effective way to reduce pollution, conserve petroleum resources, and promote healthier communities. By discouraging their use, we can cut down on plastic waste in landfills and waterways, lower our reliance on fossil fuels, and minimize harmful environmental impacts that threaten both human health and the planet's ecosystems. Please help make LA a leader in our state!!

I support banning single use plastic bags, or at least charging a fee for them. Thousands of these bags are used in Los Alamos daily to get products from the POP to the customers' homes. An hour of convenience results in harmful toxic trash that lasts virtually forever. After littering streets, clogging recycling equipment, and killing wildlife, they eventually break down into microplastics which pollute our soil, our waterways, and eventually our bodies.

As a retired USAF Colonel, I support banning single use (SU) plastic bags as a national security issue. Americans use 102.1 billion bags/year. The Wall Street Journal, estimated 12 million barrels of oil is required to make that many plastic bags! These bags end up in our beautiful landscape - leaving a site that no one wants- especially tourists and potential businesses. There's that impact on our economy too. Please ban SU bags - or at least a fee on them! Diane Reese, USAF, Col (Ret)

re. Single Use Plastics: I support looking into reducing the use of single use plastics in LAC. This is important to reduce litter (which is a large problem), waste (during production and disposal), and GHG emissions (production and support of fossil fuel industry.) There are many ways to do this, with variable impacts on outcomes and costs/equity. I encourage further research, perhaps by the ESB. Thanks for considering this important topic!
