1	Wish it could be larger.	9/8/2022 2:47 PM
2	Doesn't seem large enough or bulky enough (not enough texture or mass) to improve the sound issues in the airport. It looks a little dated.	8/26/2022 7:39 PM
3	It's gorgeous	8/25/2022 6:45 PM
4	I think it's too small to help with echoes.	8/23/2022 3:42 PM
5	Interesting medium to use	8/23/2022 6:27 AM
6	Our airport sees little to no activity, if we buy this it should be placed where it can be seen and enjoyed by more of us.	8/20/2022 1:21 PM

10	If you have so much money to throw away, could you please reduce taxes?	8/5/2022 11:06 PM
11	Not a fan of fabric art. Too expensive for this piece.	8/5/2022 9:39 PM
12	No one goes to the airport	8/5/2022 5:52 PM
13	This is lovely and would be great in the Sunport, welcoming visitors to the state.	8/5/2022 5:42 PM
14	If it is covered in acrylic will it actually serve the purpose of absorbing sound?	8/5/2022 4:27 PM

15 Feels like a lot of money for a piece to ge in the "airport" where very few residents will ever see it.

8/5/2022 4:26 PM

Q2 The proposed location for this piece is the entrance of the Los Alamos County Airport, between the two windows on the south side the building, to avoid direct sunlight. Would you agree with this placement?

1	If we have no public air service, put it somewhere more visible?	9/8/2022 10:47 AM
2	I've never been in the airport, though, so . . .	8/30/2022 5:45 AM
3	I am fairly new to the area and am wondering how many people would get to see the art if it is placed there?	8/27/2022 3:50 PM
4	Art in Public Places should not be used to fix acoustic issues in the least public space the county owns. Neither residents nor tourists use this space since there are no commercial flights at this airport.	8/27/2022 12:12 PM
5	I'm not familiar with the building, so I can't comment.	8/23/2022 3:42 PM
6	You should get more and put them in places where more people can see them, like maybe the post office. Not a lot of foot traffic through the airport	8/23/2022 6:27 AM
7	Very few of us would ever see it inside the airport. I have only been in the airport once in the past 11 years	8/20/2022 1:21 PM
8	Does anyone ever use the airport. I have not seen a plane take off or land since we moved here	8/15/2022 8:19 AM

12	No one would see it since there's no reason to go to the airport	8/6/2022 2:47 PM
13	Odd to beautify an airport few people use so we'll never see it.	8/6/2022 1:06 PM
14	How many people go to the airport? 3? This sort of purchase should go somewhere more visible.	8/6/2022 10:15 AM
15	Why another piece at the airport? Very small number of public go/visit the airport.	8/6/2022 7:26 AM
16	Why the airport?	8/5/2022 5:52 PM
17	Makes sense.	8/5/2022 5:42 PM
18	The LA county airport doesn't need an art installation. Somewhere with more traffic would be a much better use of county dollars.	8/5/2022 5:41 PM
19	Not in a high use area. Why spend so much on something a very small percentage of the town will ever see.	8/5/2022 4:26 PM

1	Love her work; it would be nice to see a local scene depicted by her.	9/8/2022 8:10 PM
2	This piece should go somewhere it will actually be seen. The Airport is not truly a community facility.	9/8/2022 2:47 PM
3	I don't personally know anyone who ever goes to the airport so I'm hoping placing art in a place that not many people frequent will not cost a ton.	9/8/2022 10:21 AM
4	Have a picture dealing with aviation or Los Alamos. A picture of Shiprock doesn't right in that space.	9/8/2022 8:38 AM
5	Would be cooler if it was a landscape in Los Alamos County.	8/31/2022 8:21 AM
6	It's pretty. I'd prefer a scene from our county.	8/30/2022 5:45 AM
7	I doubt I will ever be at the airport. How much traffic does it get??	8/27/2022 3:50 PM

15	I've never been to the airport. It doesn't seem like a location for fine art since hardly anyone would see it	8/15/2022 8:19 AM

19	The Los Alamos airport is in a windswept location. I'm not sure that it os the best location for art made of fabric, which collects dust/dirt easily).	8/7/2022 9:20 PM
20	However, it might be better if it was Los Alamos themed.	8/7/2022 6:41 AM

18	I'm not a fan of the woven works that I saw on her website and can't think of where they would look good, but I'll vote again with an open mind if it comes up. I will note that I do like rag rugs, they could be fun cushions for kids at the library, usable art per say, but that doesn't seem to be the intent here.	8/8/2022 10:11 PM
19	I never go to the airport so I like the idea of it being somewhere more members of the public go. But I can also see that the airport should have some artwork.	8/8/2022 8:22 AM
20	The Los Alamos airport experiences a lot of wind/weather. I am not sure that it is the best location for art work that is made of fabric/textiles which collect dust/dirt more easily and are harder to clean than some other mediums (ie, paint, clay, metal, etc).	8/7/2022 9:20 PM
21	Fuller lodge, library, posse lodge	8/7/2022 1:14 PM

1	There are many other fabric media and techniques that are more suited to public art than this. Crochet stretches as it hangs. Plus the artist's body of work does not indicate that the piece will be attractive at all. Hard pass!	9/8/2022 2:47 PM
2	Love this idea. It brings the culture of NM and having it from the ceiling adds to the layout	9/8/2022 11:37 AM

6	An overall comment on this regarding both items is that our airport is really not used by the public often. I have lived here 11 years and really have never been in the airport. More public places are the library, fuller lodge, and the golf course or the municipal building. Adding art to those spaces would be seen and enjoyed by more of us vs. the airport.
