Los Alamos County Department of Public Utilities – Abiquiu Hydroelectric Plant
Transformer Replacement Project

The following serves to establish a Project Tasks list for the replacement of an existing transformer at the Abiquiu Power Plant. A map showing the site location details is included in the Plan Set as seen in Exhibit "C." The existing transformer is to be disconnected, removed from the site and properly disposed of. The site of the old transformer shall be prepared for a new transformer and related accessories that is already on-site but that will need to be moved from its current location to the pad. Additional site services including testing of a high side potential transformer and circuit switcher is also included along with testing of the new transformer once it is placed and readied. The tasks listed are not intended to provide a comprehensive outline of all tasks required to complete the project rather they are intended to provide a general outline. Contractor shall provide all necessary tools, equipment and miscellaneous hardware as necessary to complete the project and provide a functional station ready for energization to the satisfaction of the County and the County's contracted Engineer.

Task 1.0 Removal of Existing Transformer and Accessories

1. The Existing transformer will be de-energized by County. Contractor to include all labor, tools and equipment necessary for the removal of the existing transformer. Drawings are included showing details related to weight, dimensions, external connections and accessories. This effort to include removal of anchor plates, grounding cables, disconnecting HV leads from the overhead 69 kV connections, removal of low side bus duct, bus duct weatherproof housing, disconnection of transformer neutral connection, arrester connections and surge counting devices, disconnecting existing control cables, removal of cooling equipment, and radiators.
2. It should be noted that there is limited access area around the transformer and the Contractor will need to present a detailed plan for how the crane will be placed, how the unit will be picked, how it will be moved and where the transport vehicle will be loaded to receive the unit. It may be that multiple lifts are needed and if so, the Contractor should detail their approach for each lift. A formal lift plan shall be presented to the County provided by the Contractor's crane services company. Because of the proximity to the existing 69 kV transmission line feeding the station, County will de-energize the line during the lift based on a mutually agreed upon date and outage window. As an option, the Contractor may opt for a 'jack-n-slide' method of removing the transformer to a better location for lifting. This is an acceptable means of removal as well and may be better suited to placement of the new unit as well.
3. Transformer shall be removed from the site along with all accessories. Any salvage value for the unit shall be credited to the County less any appropriate fees. Oil tests are available that show the unit is free of PCB's. Paperwork documenting the proper disposal of all pieces, including the full quantity of oil shall be made available to County as a requirement for release of payment to the Contractor.
4. Cribbing for outriggers or temporary placement of the transformer shall be the responsibility of the Contractor to provide and setup/remove.
5. Site shall be suitably cleaned up and the area prepared for the new unit. This shall include removal of any debris and a high pressure wash down of the foundation to remove any accumulated dirt, etc. Contractor shall secure and weather seal the conduits/cables for the controls connections, grounding connections, and the LV busduct. Submittal of a plan for sealing/securing these items shall be a required submittal to County prior to transformer removal. The weatherproofing effort is only for a short period while the new transformer is being delivered but it is very important to preserve the bus duct connections.

Task 2.0 New Transformer Installation

1. The new transformer and related accessories are already on site, but located inside the facility. Accessories such as arresters, bushing, radiators are all there and ready for the Contractor to move. The method/means for removing the transformer shall be reviewed by County for acceptance prior to beginning the work. Contractor should note that there is limited clearance under the door for the unit (fourteen feet) and the Contractor should take care accordingly when planning to move it.
2. The existing oil is not suitable for use as it has aged for some time now and must be removed/replaced. Paperwork documenting the proper disposal of the full quantity of oil shall be made available to County as a requirement for release of payment to the Contractor for the new transformer as well.
3. Contractor shall provide labor, tools, and equipment for the installation of the new transformer. This shall include reinstallation of anchor plates, reinstallation of grounding cables, reconnection of 69 kV jumpers including replacement or new fittings as appropriate for the arrester and/or transformer bushings, re-termination of low side bus jumpers, flexible links and insulation/boots, termination of controls cables and installation of radiator/fans as well as a full complement of field testing as noted below. Contractor should note that while the units are intended to be identical, slight variations in footprint, conduit gland plate location, etc. could be encountered. The bus duct connections are the critical elements that must be aligned. Review of the drawings indicate that the bushing heights and enclosure dimensions are the same. Slight modifications for anchor plates may be required though to allow for proper alignment. The Contractor should not release the crane until the placement is confirmed by County so that any minor adjustments can be performed especially as related to the bus duct housing flanges and seals.
4. Radiator connections, oil filling, topping off activities shall be in accordance with the manufacturer's guidelines and requirements. Spills or leaks shall be remedied immediately and the Contractor shall have spill prevention and containment booms, rags, etc. onsite during any work with the oil.
5. Embedded conduits in the foundation shall be protected and suitable raceways installed to the conduit gland plate in the new transformer. Galvanized rigid conduit is the preferred method, but flexible connections may be required and are acceptable if the rigid conduit raceways are not possible but needs to have approval from the Engineer prior to proceeding.
6. Anchor pads/plates may require re-grouting of the pad surfaces. Engineer will provide a suggested grout manufacturer/type should this become necessary.
7. Connections to the 69 kV and 4.16 kV existing equipment and conductors shall be coordinated with the testing and commissioning effort. The Contractor is responsible for coordinating the scheduling of these activities. Contractor shall supply all new fasteners for the bolted connections. Fasteners shall include Silicon Carbide bolts of appropriate length, stainless steel nuts and flat washers along with Belleville type 'domed' washers.

Task 3.0 Testing & Commissioning

1. Testing shall be performed on the assembled unit in accordance with industry standards by a NETA certified contractor with NETA certified testing technicians. It shall include labor, tools and equipment (including lifts) as well as any related site work that might be required to complete the overall testing effort.
2. Perform all specified equipment testing prior to energization. Include operational and verification testing of all components including cooling fans, oil preservation equipment, and all other components to completely ready the unit for operation.
3. Perform the following tests at the substation after the transformer has been placed:
 - i. Transformer turns ratio test – all taps
 - ii. Megger core and windings
 - iii. Oil dielectric test
 - iv. Winding resistance test
 - v. Field calibration of temperature devices
 - vi. Field calibration of pressure device
 - vii. On-site insulation power factor test
 - viii. Field ratio/saturation/polarity checks on all CTs
 - ix. Arrester testing
4. Functional testing and operation of the transformer controls, alarms and protection circuits shall be required and performed with the close supervision of Abiquiu plant personnel as the alarms and controls are integrated into the plant generation facility. Even though the generation plant will be off-line during the project, County does not want to see unplanned operations of any related equipment due to inadvertent functional testing on the transformer controls or alarm circuits.
5. Testing contractor shall certify that the unit is ready for final connections and energization upon completion of work.
6. Support from a factory trained manufacturer's engineer is encouraged and contacts to the manufacturer's representative can be made available as needed for questions about the unit.
7. Test reports shall be submitted for review within 5 days of testing and final copies made available within 7 days of acceptance of the preliminary report by the County.

Task 4.0 Additional Services

1. Cleaning of bushings/linkages and associated equipment shall be performed by the Contractor prior to testing.
2. Checks on grounding connections shall be made on the 69 kV structures including the shield wires and downleads while the station is de-energized. Perform similar checks on the PT structure grounds.
3. Testing shall be performed on the existing 69 kV structure mounted circuit switcher (S&C Type CS-1A) during the line/station outage. Testing shall be in accordance with manufacturer's recommendations. Functional testing of associated relays, lockouts, alarms and controls shall be documented and shown to be acceptable. Testing shall include the motor operator for the disconnect as well as the interrupters and the ground switch. Electrical testing shall also be in accordance with manufacturer's recommendations.

4. Testing shall be performed on the existing 69 kV structure mounted potential transformer (PT) during the line/station outage. Testing shall be in accordance with manufacturer's recommendations. Testing shall be documented and shown to be acceptable.
5. Contractor to include all labor, tools and equipment necessary for the testing including removal/replacement of the jumpers. Drawings are available for details related to weight, dimensions, external connections and accessories.
6. Test reports shall be submitted for review within 5 days of testing and final copies made available within 7 days of acceptance of the preliminary report by the County.

Task 5.0 Additional Comments

1. The platform around the transformer foundation serves a part of a multi-level installation and care must be taken with handling heavy equipment, vehicles and apparatus. Placement of the crane to lift the transformer as well as the transport vehicle is critical to a successful project. Accordingly, a lifting plan shall be provided for both the removal and installation. Any plans to place heavy equipment on the platform may require structural review which will be at the cost of the Contractor.
2. The existing containment area is connected to a storage basin under the transformer pad. This shall be protected during all construction activities.
3. Concerns noted during the removal/installation of the new transformer shall be promptly brought to the attention of the County for review and resolution.
4. Weekly conference calls shall be coordinated with site personnel, County's DPU engineering staff and the County's contracted Engineer to review project details, schedules and look ahead timelines.
