Time limits.

Dismissal of plaintiffs' claim that the amount of the lien imposed by defendant city after the city cleaned up plaintiffs' property was unreasonable, was reversed because the time deadlines did not apply to the action; the city's setting of the amount of the lien was not a "resolution" or "determination" that was governed by the time limits. Dismissal of plaintiffs' negligence claim (alleging that defendant city was overzealous in its cleanup of plaintiffs' property and removed everything, including topsoil and valuable cars) was reversed because the time deadlines did not apply to the action.
