- ✓ Damage beyond practical repair or repair cost exceeds value

Excessive/unreasonable maintenance requirements

Duplication within collection

Faults in design or workmanship

Fraudulent or inauthentic work

Threat to public safety

No suitable display location

Rarely or never displayed

Explanation of Criteria Met:

Art Audit reports have documented paint deterioration as far back as 2014, indicating long-term degradation. The mural's materials show clear signs of decomposition and structural decline. At 38 years old, the artwork has exceeded its intended 20-year lifespan, making restoration impractical. Additionally, Aquatic Staff have expressed a need to repurpose the space for alternative uses, further reducing the feasibility of maintaining the mural in its current condition.

4. Public & County Feedback

- Summary of Public Input: Survey results from the November 2025 Public Art Questionnaire indicate limited public engagement with the artwork. Of 99 respondents, the majority (approximately 60) reported being “not familiar” with the piece, expressed indifference (“take it or leave it”), or felt it “doesn’t add value to the collection.” Additionally, 40% stated they “would not be disappointed” if the artwork were removed, while 25% were “unsure” about its removal. These findings suggest low overall attachment and minimal perceived significance within the community.

Summary of Other Feedback: Per 2/20/26 email from Aquatic Center Manager: The mural at the Walkup Aquatic Center is flaking onto the pool deck, and during swim meets, teams use painters' tape to mount their heat sheets, which also causes paint to peel off the wall. Considering that this is public art, staff are not allowed to touch up the mural. Furthermore, touching up the white paint around the mural is also cumbersome, so as not to disturb the mural.

If the mural were deaccessioned, the potential uses for this space include more accessible points for safety and rescue equipment needed on the pool deck. Staff could also use the space to hang life jackets and other equipment on the walls to clear up the cluttered deck.

5. Artist Notification & Input

- Offer artist buy-back
- Auction through County procurement process
 - ✓ Ethical disposal if other options fail or are inappropriate for artwork

Alternative Actions Considered:

8. Financial Impact

- Estimated Costs (Relocation, Restoration, Disposal): Painting Quote estimates = $29,980.21 to repaint just the mural wall (3840 Sq. Feet) with catalyzed waterbased epoxy paint (necessary for interior of pool room); add 15% standard contingency = $4,497.03; GRAND TOTAL= $34,477.24; Full pool area painting project exceeds $60,000 so required to follow formal procurement processes; this may increase costs; In order to move forward while we wait for formal quote, put a NTE amount of $45,000.
 - Appraised Value: N/A
 - Potential Revenue from Sale/Auction: N/A

9. Formal Recommendation

- APPB Vote: Vote on May 28, 2026 APPB meeting
 - Disposition Method Recommended: Ethical disposal
 - Council Approval Status: Placeholder on 6/9/26 Council agenda for approval

10. Documentation & Compliance

- Attachments: Will attach when project is complete.
